Miss Edith Wilson.

COME you, sailor, from the South?
 Or from the black North sea?
 And did you see the grey ship
 That took my man from me,
 With her keel all trim and steady,
 And her guns laid true and ready,
 As she sailed for England's honour,
 And the glory of the sea?

O yes, I saw the grey ship,
 She was fighting one to three,
 And they pour'd their shells upon her,
 Till all aflame, till all aflame was she;
 But her guns kept on replying,
 And her tatter'd flag was flying,
 As she sank for England's honour,
 And the glory, the glory of the sea.

 Miss Edith Wilson.

RIGHT be the road that you are faring,
 Light be the load that you are bearing,
 Fine be the hope that you are sharing—
 Dearest and best of all!

Fresh be the wind around you blowing,
 Sweet be the songs around you flowing,
 Fair be the skies above you glowing—
 Dearest and best of all!

Strong be the faith that guides your wending,
 Staunch be your heart to woe unbending,
 Great gifts from God on you descending—
 Such is my prayer for you.
