- MARCH "Tannhauser" Wagner.
 OVERTURE "Oberon" Weber.
 AIR "Shipmates o' Mine" Wilfrid Sanderson.
 Mr. P. Stanley Ellis.

TELL me, tell me, where are you sailing,
 Shipmates o' mine?
 The morn is cold and the great winds are wailing,
 Shipmates o' mine!
 "Forth we must go," their brave words are falling,
 "Forth to the new land that ever is calling!"
 Fortune attend you there! Good luck go with you,
 Shipmates o' Mine!

TELL me, tell me, where are you roaming,
 Shipmates o' Mine?
 O'er blue seas or where the grey waves are foaming,
 Shipmates o' Mine?
 Never a message, oh! tell us your story,
 All fate has given you, sorrow or glory;
 Send us one word, for our lone hearts are waiting,
 Shipmates o' Mine!

TELL me, tell me, where are you sleeping,
 Shipmates o' Mine?
 Down, deep down, where no rough tide is leaping,
 Shipmates o' mine?
 There in your slumber the great guns you'r hearing
 Over your heads the proud ships are steering,
 Till the trumpet shall sound, and your Captain shall wake you,
 Shipmates o' Mine!

OVERTURE "Di Ballo" Sullivan.

AIR "Sweet as her Roses"... .. Frederick H. Cowen.
Mr. P. Stanley Ellis.

SWEET as her roses and strong as her sea,
 England the beautiful, England the free!
 Only with Paradise can I compare
 England the glorious, England the fair!
 How the heart longs for her, longs without rest,
 Longs to be home, to be home on her breast!
 How the soul dreams of her, over the foam,
 England the Heaven, England the Home!
 England, England, England the Home!
 England the Heaven, England the Home!

SWEET as her roses, nay, sweeter above
 All other sweetness, because of her love!
 Only in Heaven can happiness live
 Greater than England, our Mother, can give!
 Work for her glory and strengthen her walls,
 Live for her, die for her, glad if she calls!
 Pray for her, strong she is, stronger shall be
 England the beautiful, England the free!
 England the beautiful, England the free!
 England the glorious, England the free! HAROLD BEGGIE.
